

Default columns

Product Attributes

Bellow are default attributes that can be found in Magento. If you use different Magento version the list will vary according your instalation attributes. Many modules and customizations add additional attributes which will be also visible in Import Columns tab of your import profile. Any attributes with * are required by default to create a product.

*sku

SKU is the only required attribute for any product import regardless if you create or update a product. Any of the other attributes can be updated on its own if needed as long as you have SKU column to identify the product.

custom_design_from ### custom_design_to ### gift_message_available

msrp_enabled

image

color

cost

country_of_manufacture

price.final

price.maximum

price.minimal

System Attributes

These are not product attributes but product properties

*product.attribute_set

Attribute set to which a product belongs, valid attributes will depend on this value. If you import attributes which are not in the attribute set selected, they will not be imported by default.

product.configurable_parent_sku

This is not used to relate simple and configurable products, we allow it because it is in Magento but Rapidflow is not using it.

product.entity_id

This is internal product id. It is an option to have in export, but a product cannot be targeted by it in import profile. You can not change it as well.

product.has_options

Whether product has custom options

product.required_options

Or required custom options

*product.type

Product type, one of simple, configurable, virtual, downloadable, bundle

product.websites

Websites code base , german, not store view code but websites codes.

Category

There are few options for category export/import By default you separate multiple values with ;

category.ids

You can export import product category IDs - 3;4;5

category.name

Category names - Cat One;Cat Two;Cat One>Cat Three

Category hierarchies are built via > character, in the example above, Cat Three is child of Cat One and it will be created under it if it doesn't exist and the setting for auto creating categories is enabled.

category.path

Category url pats - cat - one ; cat - two ; cat - one / cat - three Use category url path to represent hierarchy

Inventory Stock

stock.use_config_backorders

stock.use_config_enable_qty_increments stock.use_config_manage_stock

stock.use_config_max_sale_qty

stock.use_config_min_sale_qty

stock.use_config_min_qty

stock.use_config_qty_increments stock.use_config_notify_stock_qty

Constant

Constant fields matter only for exports

const.value

Constant value, arbitrary constant value you may want to add to export (your brand for example)

const.function

Constant (not exactly) function. A string that resolves to a call back - `Some_Class::callback`
Where `callback` is a method that accepts current row, column and store id as parameters:

class Some_Class { public function callback($product, $columnInfo, $storeId)
